

Student Engagement

CO-TEACH
PLAY # 8

The text of a word problem is displayed. As Partner A discusses the problem with students, Partner B modifies text of the word problem (color coding and underlining) to make key information clearer to students. Partner A directs students' attention to the modified text. (E.G., "Let's talk about the green section", "What do we know about the red section?")

ACTION: Focus student attention to facilitate engagement.

Some coordination and/or advanced planning may be required.
