

Student Engagement

CO-TEACH PLAY # 11

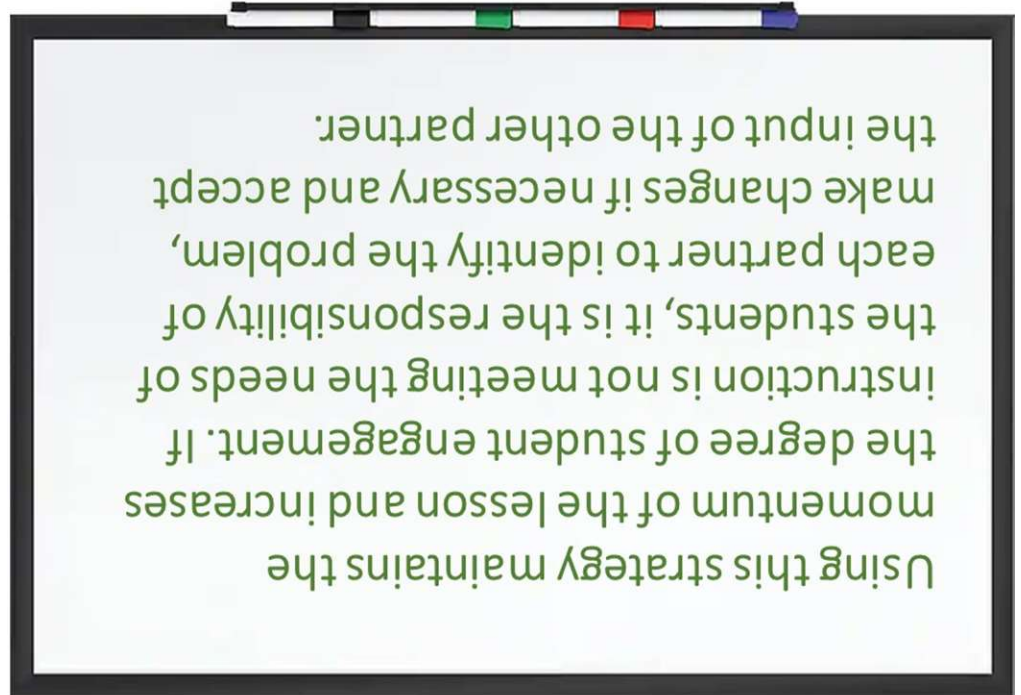

Partner A has posed a question and students are not volunteering to respond. Partner A continues using leading questions and verbal prompts without success. Partner B interjects and instructs students to talk with each other in groups to share information and field test their responses. After students have spent a short time in discussion, Partner A poses the question again and more students offer responses.

ACTION: Modify communication dynamic to facilitate student engagement.

No coordination and/or advanced planning required.
