

Teacher Engagement

CO-TEACH
PLAY # 18

Partner A is attempting to pass out materials but is experiencing difficulties with implementing another aspect of the task (getting background music to play). Partner B assumes responsibility for passing out materials as Partner A focuses on fixing the technology.

ACTION: Monitor and assist partner to ensure the flow of instruction.

No coordination and/or advanced planning required.

Partners should be prepared to adjust their roles as the situation requires. In this case, Partner B has incorporated an additional task (distributing materials) into the current role of circulation and monitoring of students. In this case the team has avoided an excessive delay and possible loss of student engagement.
