CO-TEACH
PLAY # 69

As partner A is prompting students to visualize a concept (scene from a baseball game) Partner B selects 3 students to go to the front of the classroom and participate in a role play of the concept. Partner B assumes the lead and directs the role play. Partner A thanks the students and makes several references to their act-out after resuming the instructional lead.

ACTION: Provide diverse input to facilitate comprehension of concepts.

Some coordination and/or advanced planning may be required.

Play # 69

Partners should monitor each other's instructional input for opportunities to enhance student comprehension. Partner B realizes that the example being provided by Partner A can be easily role-played. Partner A validates Partner B and the 3 students by yielding the lead and referring to the role play during subsequent instruction.
