CO-TEACH
PLAY # 75

Students will be watching a video. Partner A suggests that they jot down important information as they watch. Partner B models note taking strategy by writing and displaying key concepts or facts on the board. When video stops, Partner A refers to the displayed information and suggests it as notes.

ACTION: Model learning strategies for students.

Some coordination and/or advanced planning may be required.

Play # 75

Partner A validates Partner B's input by incorporating the displayed information into the review and suggesting that students use it as a model for their notes. Note: Since the screen is being used to display the video, another area needs to be available to accommodate Partner B's visual input.
