

Management of the Learning Environment

CO-TEACH
PLAY # 87

Partner A refers to a resource displayed in another area of the classroom. Partner B notes that very few students have looked at the material referenced. Partner B interjects and informs students of where to find the information that Partner A has just mentioned. Partner A thanks Partner B for helping students locate and utilize the reference material.

ACTION: Encourage usage of reference materials available in the environment.

No coordination and/or advanced planning required.

Play # 87

Students may not always remember or be aware of the resources in their environment. They may also fail to connect those resources with ongoing instruction. By monitoring students' reaction to instruction, and providing a timely interjection, Partner B increases the probability that information available in the classroom will benefit students.

4a Management of the Learning
Environment

Most impacted

1a Student Engagement
1b Teacher Engagement
2b Teacher to Student
Communication

Also impacted