

Management of the Learning Environment

CO-TEACH
PLAY # 91

While circulating, Partner B determines that the image projected on the screen is not large enough for students to easily process from all areas of the room. Partner B adjusts image as Partner A continues presenting information.

ACTION: Monitor and adjust the environment to facilitate student learning.

No coordination and/or advanced planning required.

Play # 91

The partner who is not in the lead, can assume the perspective of the learner and determine the need for modifications. Ensuring that the learning environment is continuously optimized requires that both partners have complete access to facilities and materials and also be open to each other's input and suggestions.
