

Behavior Management

CO-TEACH
PLAY # 100

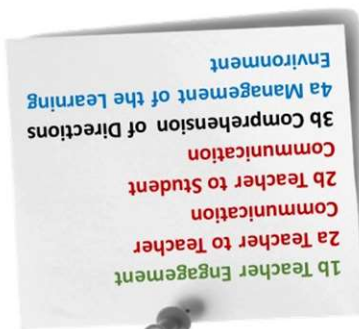

Prior to passing out materials to students for group activity, Partners A and B role-play the appropriate usage of instructional materials.

ACTION: Model appropriate behavior for students.

No coordination and/or advanced planning required.

Play # 100

Also impacted

Most impacted

A second adult in the classroom allows for modeling of interpersonal behaviors. This can be an effective complement and/or alternative to written or verbal directions. Partners should be aware that they are always modeling behavior to their students and should try to provide consistent examples of mutual respect and cooperation.