PLAY # 105

While Partner A is in the hallway managing a student's behavior, Partner B maintains the momentum of lesson. When Partner A returns to the classroom with the student, Partner B provides a recap of what was covered in their absence. Both partners then reengage with instruction.

ACTION: Maintain teacher and student engagement while managing behavior.

Some coordination and/or advanced planning required.

Play # 105

This serves as a review for the partner who was in the hallway, the student who was out of class and any student in the class who might benefit. For either partner to effectively assume the lead, both partners must have access to and familiarity with the content being taught.
